

MOSS-IN-SNOW JADEITE RUYI PENDANT

$380

20th Century • China • Jadeite • Collection #AHF0009A

W: 4.0" D: 0.25" H: 2.25"

Valued for its rarity and lustrous appearance, jade (yù) has long been a symbol of excellence, longevity and purity of virtue. Worn as jewelry or as a protective charm, the stone was believed to imbue a person with a clear mind and pure spirit, and to guard against evil spirits and illness.

This jadeite pendant is shaped as a ruyi, offering blessings of longevity and good fortune. An ancient symbol from Daoist mythology, the ruyi is an auspicious symbol that references the lingzhi fungus, or reishi, a mushroom with magical properties thought to ensure immortality. Continued...

PAGODA RED

MOSS-IN-SNOW JADEITE RUYI PENDANT

Etched on one side of the pendant is a blessing for good luck, expressing a wish for your children to achieve great success. On the other side are two ripe offering fruits - a peach for longevity and a citron for wealth.

