W: 29.75" D: 14.5" H: 15.75"

This low mirrored accent table is a fabulous example of the streamlined forms and bold materials that defined Art Deco furniture design. Dated to the 1930s, the low side table has a striking silhouette, with a rectangular mirror top overhanging a mirrored pedestal column, in turn supported by a curved wooden base finished in black lacquer. The contrast of silvery mirror glass and glossy black lacquer achieves a sleek, modern appearance that remains timeless, even after so many decades.

The antique mirrors on the pedestal column have oxidized with time for a spoiled glass look and the original mirror top has been lost and replaced with new mirror glass in a speckled antique finish. Continued...
